

Some Conference Pragmatics and Useful Information:

At the DiMenna Center, throughout the two days, the Lounge on the 2nd floor will be available for gathering, and eating lunch or dinner; (though minimal food will be provided by Seamus you may bring your own and sit here).

While we hope that the spread of events will lead to a natural accommodation of everyone who wishes to attend any set of particular concerts there are two spaces which are smaller than Cary: Benzaquen and the Fieldstein Immersion Room in the Avery Fisher Center, NYU Bobst Library, which accommodate approximately 100 and 35 people respectively. Please plan to arrive a bit early to these concerts. There are installations on site in the latter location and anyone unable to attend the I.R. concert is urged to enjoy the three other listening spaces a few feet away.

All of these events are free.
